OFFICIAL BOARD

Of Epworth M. E. Church Hold Important Meeting

An enthusiastic and largely attended meeting of the official board of Epworth M. E. church was held in the pastor's study, Monday night. The purpose of the meeting was to consider the further plans of erecting a new parsonage. The building committee appointed at a recent meeting to decide upon the material to be used in the building reported through its chairman John H. Bain. The committee recommended the use of brick and the report was unanimously adopted by the board.

It was decided to begin taking subscriptions at the regular morning service next Sunday. Other business of only routine nature was transacted.

CLAY RHOADS IS KILLED

By Accidental Discharge of Shot Gun.

LOADING FOWLING PIECE

In Presence of Mother and Brother When Gun Goes off

Heavy Charge of Shot Crashes Through Skull Lodging in Brain—Death Results Two Hours Later

Clay Rhoads, aged seventeen years, three months, seventeen days, residing one and one-half miles northeast of Scott Town, was accidentally shot and killed about 4 o'clock Monday evening.

While standing in the summer kitchen at his home, loading an old-fashioned muzzle loading shot gun, and at the same time carrying on a cheerful conversation with his mother and younger brother who were witnessing his proceedings, the ideal home scene was suddenly changed to one of sadness and death. The fowling piece in some manner was discharged, and the youth, who was just blossoming into manhood, fell full length to the floor with a heavy charge of No. 6 shot lodged in his brain. He died two hours later.

So sudden was the tragedy that for a few seconds the mother could not realize what had happened. Then she tenderly picked up her bleeding, mangled son and carried him to a bed and hastily summoned the other members of the family. Dr. Burnside, of Scott Town, Dr. Uhler, of Marion, and Dr. Culbertson, of Agosta, were called to the scene, but were helpless to minister to such a fatal case.

The physicians' examination disclosed that the charge of shot had struck just below the left ear, tearing it away, shattering the rear portion of the lower jaw, then passing upwards through the skull, lodging in the left side of the brain.

That death did not occur instantaneously was little less than miraculous, as the left portion of the brain was completely shattered. The tragedy occurred a few minutes before 4 o'clock and death occurred shortly after six, the victim lingering between life and death during that time.

The young man had planned to go muskrat hunting with a neighbor friend and was in the act of driving the last wad in the second charge of his gun, when he felt the victim of the accident. The cause of the discharge of the piece will probably never be known. The younger brother, Arlie, who was standing near, claims that the gun was cocked, but was not capped. The most plausible supposition is that the powder tube contained a small piece of percussion and the hammer was jarred down by the force of the rod in driving the charge in the other barrel.

The deceased is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Rhoads. Three brothers and seven sisters survive to mourn his sad death.

Funeral service will be conducted at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, probably from the home, although not definitely decided.

MISS MABEL WELSH DIES TUESDAY

Morning After Short Illness with Diabitis

Deceased was a Popular and Well Known Young Lady Residing at Morral.

Miss Mabel L. Welsh, aged twenty-four years, six months and two days, died at 1:40 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Welsh, in Morral. Death came suddenly after a short illness with diabitis.

Miss Welsh had scarcely ever known a sick day in her life. She seemed quite well until Saturday morning when she was confined to her bed. Her condition grew steadily worse and almost before her friends and family could realize that she was seriously ill, the grim reaper had summoned her spirit home. She was one of the most popular and well known young ladies in Morral village and her death will be mourned by a score of intimate friends.

Two sisters and one brother survive. They are Marie and Roma Welsh, residing at home and Floyd Welsh, night telegraph operator at the local Pennsylvania railroad station.

The funeral will be conducted from the Methodist church at Morral, Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment will be made in Morral cemetery.

Eyes tested and fitted with glasses. Cures catarrh, electric massage cures deafness. See Dr. Langer, Huber Block.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

Miss Marie Turner to Retire as Teacher.

THREE SETS OF TWINS

Found in One Family by the School Census Taker.

Board Decides to go Slow on Matter of Raising Salary of Teachers as the Fund is Now Overdrawn.

Miss Marie Turner, who has been teaching in the local public schools for several years, tendered her resignation to the board at its meeting Monday night. On account of failing health, Miss Turner was compelled to give up her duties. The board accepted the resignation and employed Miss Eula Young at a salary of $45 a month to fill the vacancy at the Greenwood building, caused by Miss Turner's resignation.

Mr. Titus, who was appointed by the board to take the census of the school children residing just north of the corporation line was present last night and made a report disclosing interesting results. He found seventy-two school children varying in age from 6 to 21, thirty-seven of whom were males and thirty-five females. Mr. Titus said that in taking the enumeration he found some peculiar conditions existing in some of the homes. One place, he found a family where there were three sets of twins besides several other children. The enumerator found that only twenty-seven out of the seventy-two were attending school and the old perplexing question again faced the board, "how can we furnish a school for this district. Mr. Dickerson was of the opinion that it would not pay to build a schoolhouse, and as the pupils are outside of the corporation line and already the responsibility of looking after them as it really comes under the county's jurisdiction. The board decided to drop the matter for the present.

The question of the land shortage at the Olney Avenue grounds, which was discussed in a recent survey, was again brought up. The board decided not to pay the side-walk assessment until it gets the land that it purchased.

Miss Walters, teacher at the Olney Avenue building, petitioned the board for a raise in salary, but no definite action was taken. In connection with this, Mr. Dickerson expressed his opinion that the board would have to go easy on salary raising as the salary fee fund is already overdrawn four thousand dollars. He further stated that the board is running the schools on $1.2 mills when it is really entitled to 13 1/2.

Mr. Frank asked the board's pleasure regarding the customary dismissal of schools in the afternoon of examination days. After a lengthy discussion he was authorized to dismiss school on the afternoon of next Thursday and Friday, which will be the days when the hardest tests are given.

Bills aggregating $906.34 were allowed. Following are the standing committees of the board for the ensuing year, as appointed by President George B. Christian Jr.

Finance—M. Waddell, W. B. Spaulding, and B. P. Sweeney. Building and Grounds—M. B. Dickerson, Waddell and Spaulding. Printing—Hill, Dickerson and Christian.

Course of Study, Text Books—Sweeney, Christian and Hill. Supplies—Spaulding, Hill and Waddell.

MARION GREEKS OBSERVE HOLIDAY

New Years of Julian Calendar Came Monday.

Foreigners Made Usual Calls and Extended the Customary Greetings of Season.

Yesterday was New Year's day for Russians and Greeks and the foreigners residing in Marion called upon each other and expressed the greetings of the season. Startling as these statements may seem, a glance at the Julian Calendar will prove they are not erroneous.

The Julian calendar is thirteen days behind the one Americans follow. Suggested by Julius Caesar, the Julian calendar was adopted in the year 125 A. D. by the first general council of the Greek church. This calendar is used by Armenians, Syrians, Greeks, Russians, Servians, Bulgarians and Macedonians. No other calendar will be used by these races until another general council decides to that effect. The general council of this branch of the church consists of all bishops of the church and many laymen. A general council is only called in case of actual need or emergency, such as when heretics endanger the doctrines of the Greek church. The last general council was held in the ninth century.
